Resource 4A – Model Story

One sunny day in Clapham Common, Francesca and Teddy decided to go for a walk. They lived at number 45 Freke Road in the middle of a row of red brick terraced houses. Their house had a blue door and was in the centre of the cobbled street.

It was the summer holidays and Francesca and Teddy decided to go for a short walk around the common. The children were very lucky to be able to go to school, their father worked as a teller in a bank so could pay a penny every day. Walking as a leisure activity was much more popular now and Francesca had a new straw hat she wanted to show off. The hat was golden like the sun and had an emerald green bow tied around it.

The brother and sister set off on their short walk to the grassy park but on the way Teddy's attention was captured by the new ruby red London buses that had started to drive around the area. More and more people were moving to London and Clapham needed these buses to take people into the centre of town. Without his big sister noticing, Teddy slipped away and hopped onto a bus that was travelling along the wide road near the common.

Francesca turned to tell her brother about the ducks on the pond but realised that he was gone! Francesca was so worried. Where had her brother gone? What could have happened to him? Suddenly she heard the tinkling bell of the shiny red buses and the conductor shouting to her. Teddy jumped off the bus that had stopped. He looked a little sheepish but excited nonetheless.

Teddy explained to Francesca that he was just so excited to see the strong grey horses pulling the coaches and buses around town. The horses' hooves clipped and clopped on the cobbles and Teddy loved the sound! To celebrate finding her brother, Francesca took him for a carriage ride around the common and used a shiny halfpenny to pay the driver.

The two children walked home to tell their parents all about their day. Teddy promised Francesca never to wander off again and she in turn promised to take him to see the carriages and horses when she could.
